Information Psychology Practice Koolmees

Everybody from 18 to 65 years is welcome in the psychology practice of drs. Paula Koolmees-Mitrovic, with small or big problems or questions. Also, couples and families in any form are most welcome. The only condition is that you have a GP.

The psychology practice offers short trajectories of on average 3 to 8 sessions and long trajectories of 8-30 sessions.

The psychologist ensures that you feel at ease and safe, so that you can tell your story. The psychologist is a professional and will handle the details of you and your privacy data in the correct manner. The NIP Code of Conduct for Psychologists is used.

The psychologist regularly follows courses, conferences, intervision and supervision. In this way, the best care and treatment is guaranteed for you.

Intake

During the first intake we get to know each other, we look at your help questions and your complaints. Here we check whether and how the psychologist can help you.

The psychologist will ask many questions to get to know you as a person, but also to see what exactly is going on with you. You can also get to know the psychologist and see if you feel good and understood. The psychologist thinks it's important to put you at ease, so that the bond of trust can start to grow. This is essential for good therapy or coaching.

At the end of the conversation, it will be discussed what is going on and what will be the plan for further treatment. Your wishes and questions are important. After your agreement, the research is started.

In most cases this will be done through the practice, but sometimes the psychologist will refer you if you can be helped better elsewhere.

FIRST APPOINTMENT:

You can take a seat in Delft in the waiting room on the first floor. You do not have to notify us that you are there, the psychologist will pick you up from the waiting room. If you are in the possession of a GP letter, you can then take it with you. If you do not have these in your possession, it is not necessary.

Therapy

During the treatment we will go deeper into your complaints and try to find a solution. The treatment is aimed at getting rid of your complaints or reducing them as quickly as possible. You will also gain more insight and the psychologist will explain things about possible causes. Most people feel better after 3 to 4 conversations and have more insight into themselves. The treatment is a mix of different methods to treat you. The basis is often cognitive behavioural therapy.

The psychologist makes use of elements from EMDR, psychoeducation, cognitive behavioural therapy, IPT, ACT, IBSR, schema therapy and mindfulness. You will also be advised on exercises and books. To be able to treat you better, research is always done.

Research:

The research is started if you wish to continue after the intake interview.

Research is being done to find out more about your complaints and / or problems, your personality, how you deal with problems. The research is meant to understand more about yourself and your psychological problems. Of course, your privacy is handled extremely well. The research is briefly discussed during a session. If you want to look at the research extensively, you can indicate this and then the time is taken for 1 to 2 sessions.

During the intake interview you can also choose to do more extensive research into various components of psychology, such as personality, your contacts with others, your relationship, your problem solving skills. You will receive a quotation from us by e-mail with which you must agree, after which the investigation will start.
